Speaker(s):
- Pete Clifton, Editor-in-Chief of the PA
- Holly Brockwell, Technology Journalist and Blogger
- Paul Shanley of the Associated Press

How are AI technologies affecting newsrooms and journalism itself? What impact will AI have on the relationships between PRs and journalists?

We will be discussing new developments in the industry, the impact of AI so far, and look to the future of technology and what this means for journalism and the communications industry as a whole.

Come along to the City's beautiful Mercer restaurant for a lively discussion and a tasty breakfast.
